

POPI POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

The right to privacy is an integral human right recognised and protected in the South African Constitution and the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013 ("POPIA").

POPIA aims to promote the protection of privacy by providing guiding principles that are intended to be applied to the processing of personal information in a context-sensitive manner.

Through the provision of quality goods and services, the Church is necessarily involved in the collection, use and disclosure of certain aspects of the personal information of members, adherents, customers, employees and other stakeholders.

A person's right to privacy entails having control over his or her personal information and being able to conduct his or her affairs relatively free from unwanted intrusions.

2. COMMITMENT TO COMPLIANCE WITH POPI

Given the importance of privacy, Durban North Community Church (DNCC) is committed to effectively managing personal information in accordance with POPIA's provisions. To meet the requirements of POPI, DNCC has a POPI Risk Framework which includes:

- Development and implementation of information processing plans and procedures, including the safeguards of personal information required under POPI
- Development and implementation of a compliance monitoring plan
- Appointment of Information Officer
- Delegation of duties to staff and training on their duties
- Development of disclosures and client POPI engagement processes
- Documentation of relationships with third parties on the sharing of personal information and/or service agreements for the outsourcing of certain POPI obligations

3. INFORMATION OFFICER

Durban North Community Church has appointed Duncan Muller as its Information Officer. All correspondence to the Information Officer may be submitted via e-mail to: duncan@dncc.org.za

4. PRIVACY STATEMENT

Durban North Community Church is committed to processing personal information in accordance with the below principles when collecting, recording, storing, disseminating, and destroying personal information, and responding to government requests for our users' data:

- We will not contact/solicit you unless you have given us your consent to do so or unless required as part of an existing relationship with you.
- We will process your personal information for a specific, lawful reason and only adequate, relevant information which is limited to the purposes for which they are processed and which relates to the functions or the activity of the church.
- If you cancel your services with DNCC, we will delete or otherwise de-identify your personal information after the minimum storage periods required under our risk and statutory record-keeping periods have expired.
- We take measures to ensure data is kept safe and prevent loss of, damage to, or unauthorized destruction of personal information, and unlawful access to or processing of personal information.

DNCC collects information directly from you where you provide us with your details. In addition to the aforementioned, we shall, subject to your consent, or to execute our service agreement with you, obtain further information required from third parties and other sources where necessary.

DNCC does not collect and process special personal information unless it is a requirement by law to process such information as part of our service delivery, in which case we shall obtain consent from you before collection thereof. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children (under 18 years of age) without the permission of their parent/s or guardian.

DNCC and its employees may disclose personal information: to other services providers involved in the rendering of services or the provision of products to the member, adherents; customers and to services providers, it is in engaged with such as accountants, compliance officers, administration etc.; if DNCC has a duty or a right to disclose same in terms of law or certain industry codes; or if it is necessary to protect DNCC's legal rights and interests.

We undertake to review and update our security measures in accordance with future legislation and technological advances. Access to member/ adherent's data from within our organisation is limited to essential staff or specialist contractors that are required to access our systems for member/ adherents service or maintenance purposes, who are bound by the requirements of the legislation and are required to maintain safety and security measures. DNCC will not transfer personal information to a third party in a foreign country without ensuring that it complies with the provisions of POPI.

5. REQUEST TO ACCESS PERSONAL INFORMATION PROCEDURE

In terms of POPI, data subjects have the right to:

- Request what personal information the church holds about them and why.
- Request access to their personal information.
- Be informed on how to keep their personal information up to date.

Access to information requests can be made by email, addressed to the Information Officer. The Information Officer will provide the data subject with a "Personal Information Request Form". Once the completed form has been received, the Information Officer will verify the identity of the data subject before handing over any personal information. All requests will be processed and considered against the Church's Policy.

The Information Officer will process all requests within a reasonable time.

6. POPI COMPLAINTS AND OBJECTIONS PROCEDURE

A member/adherent/employee has a right to object to the use of personal information, however in certain instances failure to provide us with personal information may result in the inability to deliver said services or products to you, or you shall receive limited services.

Data subjects have the right to complain in instances where any of their rights under POPIA have been infringed upon.

The Church takes all complaints very seriously and will address all POPI related complaints in accordance with the following procedure:

- POPI complaints must be submitted to the Church in writing. Where so required, the Information Officer will provide the data subject with a "POPI Complaint Form".
- The Information Officer will provide the complainant with a written acknowledgement of receipt of the complaint.
- The Information Officer will carefully consider the complaint and amicably address the complainant's concerns. In considering the complaint, the Information Officer will endeavour to resolve the complaint in a fair manner and accordance with the principles outlined in POPIA.
- Where the data subject is not satisfied with the Information Officer's suggested remedies, the data subject has the right to complain to the Information Regulator.

The Information regulator's contact details are as follows:
